

Flu vaccinations. Better for business.

It's more important than ever for your clients to protect their employees against flu this year.

Knowing their employees are well prepared for flu season can help relieve worries of future sickness absence for your clients. We're here to help keep your clients' employees healthy and in work.

As every business is different, we've got a range of support options that can be flexible based on your clients' needs.

Please note: the flu vaccine doesn't cover the strains of coronavirus (COVID-19).
