

Flu vaccinations. Better for business.

It's more important than ever to protect your employees against flu this year.

Knowing that your people are well prepared for flu season can help relieve worries of future sickness absence. We're here to help keep your staff healthy and in work. As every business is different, we've got a range of support options that can be flexible based on your needs.

Please note: the flu vaccine doesn't cover the strains of coronavirus (COVID-19).
